BERKLEY VIBRATO

As its name implies, the Vibrato has a natural vibrating action, but unlike typical vibrating lures, it vibrates on the fall, when jigged, twitched, retrieved steadily, or trolled in any way and at any speed! The unique constant vibration is due to the design of the body being deeply compressed with a wider belly and a thinner back, causing it to vibrate regardless of how it is fished. Equipped with two treble hooks, one on each side, the Vibrato is ideal for light-biting fish where two trebles will ensure more fish are caught. A full wire runs through the length of its body, connecting both hooks and the line tie, assuring a solid and secure connection between you and your trophy.

Erie Stand Up Jigs are very popular for presenting a dynamic presentation on the bottom of a body of water. The upright display allows anglers to "river-hook" or "Canadian-style hooking" rig their bait on these jigs for a realistic presentation that makes the minnow appear as if its alive and feeding off of bottom.

PK RIDGE RATTL'R

An all season rattle bait, PK's version of the perfect rattle bait. They took their regular crankbait and modified the shape slightly while adding more weight to the front of the lure. The heavier weight forward design helps the angler know where the lure is which is very important. Some other rattle baits have too much lift and only work well when ice fishing.

You will notice the lure stays on the bottom. Works great trolling .3 - .5 mph while ripping/jigging. Cast easily even into the wind! Retrieves are similar to a crankbait. The ridges on the sides of the rattle bait cause intense vibration. The fast drop resembles wounded baitfish which are key elements to a great lure.
